

HERE IS YOUR KANSAS HAY MARKET REPORT FOR THE WEEK ENDING NOV 21ST

 DUE TO THANKSGIVING HOLIDAY, THE NEXT REPORT WILL BE ISSUED

TUESDAY DECEMBER 8TH, 2020

Hay market prices were steady with an undertone of strength, while demand remained strong. Movement was good for those who have not been affected by illness or quarantines. Warm and dry weather seems to be the norm across the state, and all could use some rain, which hopefully, will be received this week. According to US Drought Monitor for the week of November 17th, moderate to severe drought continues to stretch over much of Kansas and Nebraska with conditions deteriorating across most of Kansas, but more stable farther north. Abnormal dryness (D0) decreased to 28%, moderate drought (D1) increased to 44%, severe drought (D2) increased to 13%, and extreme drought (D3) increased to just over 2%. Subsoil moisture supplies rated 23% very short, 41% short, 35% adequate, and 1% surplus. If you have any extra hay to sell and/or need hay here in Kansas, use the services of the Internet Hay Exchange: www.hayexchange.com/ks.php.
